Basketball Season Will Open Nov. 24 Here With Northbrook as Opponent

Fourteen Conference Games Scheduled for Antioch High School

With but two letter men left after last year's graduation Coach Maurice Kruzan on Monday evening began the task of building a comparatively new team for the opening of the basketball season here against Northbrook on November 24.

To Poulos and Buchta, Coach Kruzan must add last year's substitutes and those coming up from the freshman-sophomore squad. The Papposes had about the same degree of success last year as the varsity so the prospects for the season starts from there.

The schedule for this year is:

Nov. 24—Northbrook here
Dec. 4—Barrington there
Dec. 3—Grant here
Dec. 10—Bensenville there
Dec. 11—Ela Township here
Dec. 17—Wauconda here
Dec. 21—Palatine there
Jan. 7—Northbrook there
Jan. 14—Barrington here
Jan. 21—Grant there
Jan. 28—Ela there
Feb. 4—Bensenville here
Feb. 11—Wauconda there
Feb. 18—Palatine here

Professional Wrestling Referendum is Defeated For 2nd Time; Rd. Lake

Devotees of the "grunt and groan" boys of professional wrestling will have to go elsewhere than Round Lake Park to witness their favorite sport according to the tally of the ballot on a special referendum to allow the sport to be promoted professionally there.

The referendum, which is the second on the same proposition, the other having taken place last April, was beaten by more than two to one, with about 200 for and 400 against. The referendum is a result of a factional fight at the recently organized municipality, wherein Fred Kohler, well known wrestling promoter, is opposed by a number of citizens of the village in the promotion of the bouts.

The origin of the squabble seems to have been when Kohler built the new outdoor arena too close to the state highway to suit some residents, who are taking this means of showing their displeasure.

HUNTING SEASON ON PHEASANT & RABBIT TO OPEN NOV. 11th

With the hunting season opening Nov. 11, Dr. Roland R. Cross, state director of public health, warned Illinois residents today regarding the dangers of tularemia or so-called rabbit fever.

"Although the reported prevalence of tularemia in the state this year is less than one-third of last, the disease is likely to increase sharply during the coming months unless precautions are taken in the handling of wild rabbits," Dr. Cross said.

Up to October 23, 31 cases of tularemia had been reported to the department as against 105 cases for the comparable period of 1947. One death from tularemia was reported during the first seven months of this year.

"While several wild animals, including squirrels, field mice and skunks, are known to carry tularemia, wild rabbits are the principal reservoir of the disease in Illinois, being responsible for about 95 percent of the cases in human beings," Dr. Cross said. "The disease is spread to man most often in the skinning and dressing of infected rabbits."

Dr. Cross pointed out, however, that persons may also get tularemia by eating undercooked infected meat; by drinking water that has been contaminated by infected wild animals or through the bite of an infected flea or tick.

"The control of tularemia," Dr. Cross said, "is dependent primarily on the precautions each person must take for his own safety." He urged hunters, housewives and butchers in particular to use rubber gloves at all times when skinning and dressing wild animals, especially rabbits.

At the Sectional Poultry and Grain Show for Future Farmers of America, held at Marengo, Ill., Saturday, twelve members from the Antioch Township High school won 27 blue ribbons, 16 red and 4 white.

The unusual high quality of exhibits was due mainly to the six samples of Clinton oats which all placed in the blue ribbon class, and the usual fine display of poultry and eggs.

Ear corn and shelled corn displays showed a lot of moisture this year but the samples displayed by Warren and Gordon Wells which had been dried, placed in the blue ribbon class.

Antioch High Fourth in Conference Standing, New Schedule Issued

Northwest Conference
Barrington	5	0	186
Bensenville	3	1	65
Grant	2	2	41
Antioch	2	3	0
Northbrook	1	4	0
Palatine	1	4	0

A loss to Bensenville High there last Friday evening by a score of 12 to 0 brought the Antioch Township High school football season to a close with the Sequoits in fourth place.

Barrington, unbeaten and unscored upon, won the championship of the Northwest conference. The Bronchos amassed 186 points.

The closing game between Antioch and Bensenville was a good one, but a hard one for the Sequoits to lose. Twice Antioch had the ball on Bensenville's one-yard line only to lose the ball.

The playing field was anything but good because of rain and standing water.

Next year the conference will have eight teams—all schools entering competition. This year Ela and Wauconda played each other twice and did other free-lance playing, but next year they will be ready for conference competition.

This will make pre-conference games unnecessary, Coach Maurice Kruzan said.

Antioch's schedule will be as follows:

Sept. 23—Barrington at Antioch; Sept. 30—Antioch at Northbrook; Oct. 7—Bensenville at Antioch; Oct. 14—Antioch at Wauconda; Oct. 21 Palatine at Antioch; Oct. 28—Antioch at Grant; Nov. 4—Antioch at Ela.

The new schedule again brings Barrington here, and for the opening game of the season.

There's A Limit

One wonders just how far the Federal government can go in supporting the citizens of this country. According to the Chicago Journal of Commerce, out of every six adult Americans is now receiving money from the U. S. Treasury. This includes Federal employees, war veterans and dependents, retired civil service employees, social security beneficiaries, and so on. And the total tends to steadily increase.

If those who wish to extend social security to cover every possible human financial problem from the cradle to the grave have their way, it won't be long until the Federal government will supply all or part of the livelihood of practically everyone in the country. The drive for compulsory sickness insurance is a good example of that possibility. Theoretically, it could be paid for by a payroll tax. Actually, in the view of experts, the proposed tax would be inadequate, and heavy appropriations would be necessary to make up the deficits. Then, on top of that, it would create one of the largest bureaucracies in the government to handle the administration of the measure. Thus the army of regular Federal tax-eaters would be swollen once more—and once more the taxpayer would dig into his depleted pocketbook to pay the bill.

Social security, indeed, can be made so costly that it would destroy the security and future of everyone. We have gone a long way toward that point.

The Significance of Armistice Day

The significance of Armistice Day goes deep into the heart of this country. It marks our victory in the two most destructive wars the world has ever known. Of comparable importance, it should remind every American of the enormous human and economic wealth we have been forced to spend to maintain our liberties, and to defend those principles upon which the dignity of man depends.

Armistice Day should bring us another thought as well. This nation has never provoked a war. No people on earth is more peaceful in intention. None will do more to achieve a just and lasting peace for all countries. If ever we are forced to engage in war, it will be because we can find no other means of maintaining those rights and freedoms which make up the American tradition.

The United States must build and conserve its strength. That means, on the surface, that we must have a strong military force capable of dealing with aggressors, and a mighty industrial structure to back it up. But these things, vital as they are, represent a reflection of our strength rather than the substance of it. For the core of this nation's strength and power lies in the spirit of freedom. It is based on the knowledge that every American has inalienable rights which cannot be abrogated. The right to speak our minds, the right to own property, the right to engage in a business of our choosing, the right to be free of dictation by government—these and other rights constitute our strength. And that too is the significance of Armistice Day.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

With winter about to set in, I am starting to go literary. Now, says Henry, I have heard everything—you going bookish—can't be. Yep, I says, I have books—have a half dozen of same. And anybody choosing to inquire, I will tell them—none of my books are the ones some folks say they gotta read in order to un-lax or get away from something. These excuses are bosh—an alibi for not reading something where you need to use the noggin.

Now, back to my 6 volumes. They are the Scout Handbook, the Dictionary, Aesop's Fables, the Bible, Joe Miller's Jokes and a volume of writings by the Old Masters—Longfellow, Emerson, Washington Irving, Bryant. And before going further, any old pelican or young pelican or even our sweet mamas, they should take time out from the ball-scores, and the soap suds radio dilemmas, and read Mr. Bryant's Thanatopsis. A page and a half—about 10 minutes. It will let the cobwebs out.

Don't say, well, Josephus maybe has something there—I will read it soon, or sometime. Read it now—you will be a better sizer—maybe. You reading poetry, I can't believe it, says Henry. Yep, I says—and it wouldn't hurt you either, or any other old spalpeen.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Izaak Walton Essay Contest to Close On Tuesday, November 30

Lake county school children were warned that less than three weeks remain for them to enter essays in the statewide essay contest sponsored by the Illinois Division of the Izaak Walton League of America on the need for ridding Illinois rivers and streams of pollution.

All essays must be in by November 30, Robert C. O'Hair, Glen Ellyn, state president of the league announced this week. The compositions are to be sent to the Izaak Walton League contest committee, 1214 So. LaFayette Ave., Chicago.

Interest in the contest is running high among Illinois school children, O'Hair said. Hundreds of essays have already been received from pupils enrolled in public, parochial and private schools throughout the state.

Lake county high school students, and seventh and eighth graders are eligible to compete. The theme of the essays is "Why Illinois Streams Should Be Rid of Industrial and Human Wastes." Principals and teachers of all schools in the county as well as Boy Scout and Girl Scout troop leaders have been provided with full details concerning the contest, how to enter it and the prizes offered.

The league will award prizes totaling $300 for the best 200-word essays. Statewide first place winners in both the high school and seventh and eighth grade divisions will each receive $50. Second, third and fourth place winners will be awarded $25, $15 and $10 respectively. Twenty-five $1 prizes will be given runners up in each division.

The boy or girl suggesting the most suitable name for a "Merit Award" certificate will receive a special $50 prize. The league plans to present such certificates to cities and industries keeping their waters free of pollution.

ADVICE IN FEEDING GRAIN

The following pointers on feeding grain to hogs were released this week by Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas. They are based on suggestions received from H. G. Russell, livestock specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Corn—Since pigs weighing up to 150 pounds chew corn thoroughly, there is not enough saving in grinding it to warrant the expense. Ear corn and shelled corn usually give as good results as ground corn. As pigs reach 150 pounds in weight, grinding the corn for hand-feeding will save 6 to 7 percent. When they are self-fed, there is less saving. For hogs, it is best to grind the corn medium-fine.

Oats—Oats should be finely ground for hogs, since anything that can be done to make the hull less noticeable increases their palatability. For fattening-hogs, oats should not make up more than a third of the total grain ration.

Wheat—Coarse grinding saves about 6 percent when wheat is self-fed; it saves 15 to 20 percent when it is hand-fed.

Barley—Barley ground medium fine has about 17 percent higher feeding value for hogs than whole barley. Seabby barley is not satisfactory for feeding.

Electric Fences
Plainly mark all electric fences on farm; warn children of them.

LIBRARY NOTES

"Jungle Man" by Major P. J. Pretorius, is the life story of an African big game hunter. At sixteen, the author left his father's South African farm and began an adventurous career riding transport for the British South Africa company. His stories of hunting elephants and other big game with gun and camera make a rare and amazing adventure tale. This book was presented to the Antioch Township Library in memory of George Gollwitzer.

"Remembrance Rock," an unmarked boulder under which lies dust from historic American sites, gives Carl Sandburg his title for a panorama of the little and the big peoples of America. Mr. Sandburg's first novel stands beside his biography of Lincoln as a work of art and a great contribution to American literature. "Remembrance Rock" was presented to the library in memory of Arthur Edgar.

Sigrid Undset's tetralogy, "The Master of Hestviken," has been presented to the library in memory of Mrs. Sine Laursen. This deeply moving historical novel of Scandinavia won Miss Undset the noble prize for literature in 1928 and is one of the outstanding books of the twentieth century.

Mrs. Mollie Somerville left here Saturday evening for New York, N. Y., where she will attend the wedding of a great-niece. She will also visit at Patterson, N. J., while in the East. During her absence, her sister and husband from Chicago will remain at her home.

Returns From 7,000 Mile Trip
Miss Dorothy Ferris returned home last Friday from a seven-week bus trip covering 15 states and more than 7,000 miles. She took the northwest route to the coast, went south through California into Mexico, and returned by way of Colorado and Nebraska. She visited many points of interest and called on friends in California and Denver, Colo.

Antioch Acorns Meet

Waukegan Exchange Teacher Will Address Local PTA Mon. Night

Stanley Tomkovick, Waukegan Township High school teacher, who served as an exchange teacher in England, will address the Antioch Grade School P. T. A. Monday evening.

The meeting, starting at 8 p. m., will be in the grade school and the school band will furnish music.

Mr. Tomkovick will speak on European forms of education.

Mrs. Robert Mann, second grade room mother, will be in charge of refreshments.

Armstrong Explains Current Draft Law

Inquiries received at State Headquarters and at the local board offices indicate a great deal of misunderstanding exists as to when young men becoming 18 are required to register. Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service, stated today, a great many people think another special registration will be set for these men. However, registration for 18 year olds is continuous and every male citizen is required to register at the local board nearest his home within 5 days after his birthday; if away from home, he may go to the nearest local board office and register taking care to see that his home address is on line 2 of Registration Card, because that address will determine the local board of jurisdiction.

There are also quite a few men between the ages of 18 and 26 who, for some reason, have failed to register; many because they had completed service in the Armed Forces during World War II or were previously registered under the 1940 law, and believe they do not have to register now. However, all men 18 through 25 who have thus far failed to register, have violated the law, and could, if arrested and convicted, suffer severe penalties under the law. Police officers now ask men in this age group, who may be stopped for traffic violations or any other cause, for their draft cards. Failure to have one is cause for arrest and notification to the Federal authorities. Therefore, all men who have failed thus far to register, should immediately present themselves to the nearest local board for registration which they may do, for a limited time, without penalty.

Helicopter Fleet

Rotor fleet of navy helicopters will be the largest fleet in the world when aircraft now on order are placed in service. Forty-six new HO4S observation helicopters purchased by the navy will bring to 88 the number of rotary-winged aircraft of all types available for use by fleet and shore-based units for rescue, transport and observation missions. The HO4S has a maximum rate of climb of 1,200 feet per minute at sea-level.

George Heppelwhite

George Heppelwhite was a practical cabinet maker and designer who first created strictly in the Adam mode. Later he developed in his own way the treatment of the shield-back chair. He originated designs for a sideboard evolved from the three-piece arrangement of side table and two pedestals which Adam had employed. Heppelwhite influenced English cabinet-making from 1760 to 1805.

Goodbye, Bootblack!

The day is fast approaching when shoes no longer need be shined, when the baby will have a plastic carriage, and ready-cut meats will come in transparent plastic packaging. Dr. Robert Arles of Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn predicts. The plastic industry, which is still only in its second phase of growth, will bring these changes about.

Britain's War Damage

More than half of the 22 million tons of shipping which made Britain the world's sea carrier was sunk during the war. Four million houses were destroyed or damaged by enemy action. Slightly under a million people were killed or severely wounded, of which 148,840 were civilians, including children. Nearly every city and town was scarred by air bombing.

History of Wallpaper

Recorded history of wallpaper is a long one; it dates back more than four centuries. At first, wallpaper was made by a cumbersome hand process and thus was excessively expensive, and its use was limited to the wealthy. In later years, however, the art spread, designs improved and the cost naturally decreased as wallpaper techniques improved.

Crocodile Is Worst

Nile crocodile is said to kill more human beings than any other wild creature.

Electric Gas Cap

A gasoline cap now on the market is said to protect the gasoline tank from marauders. Opening and closing of the cap are electrically controlled from the dashboard.

Close Mowing Injurious

During hot summer months lawns should not be cut closer than two inches and usually it would be better net to mow at all than to cut too close.

Only One Morphine
There is great need for improved drugs of the analgesic type, such as morphine, which make pain harder to feel by reducing the perception of pain in the brain without blocking other nerve functions. Morphine, the most potent analgesic so far discovered, is habit-forming, and most other available agents are relatively ineffective even in large doses.

Advice for Swimmers

Swimming is fine exercise for those in proper physical condition, but those who are not feeling well should stay out of the water, especially out of deep water. It is wise to wait for a time following meals before entering the water and a person should not swim if overheated. It is dangerous to dive into strange water where depth and condition of the bottom are unknown.

To Keep Hats Out

Outside parts of building including floors, doors and other openings should be built so as to keep rats out. Efforts also should be made to avoid favorable rat harbors within buildings, especially in spaces between floors, in ceilings and in wall spaces under and around equipment such as feed boxes, mangers and grain bins.

Panama Canal and Atom

In the opinion of military men, one or two atomic bombs or a series of hits by ordinary bombs could breach the lock chambers of the retaining walls of the artificial lake in the Panama canal. Even if the structure could be rebuilt, it then would take one or two years to refill the lake, depending on rainfall.

Keystone State

Mountain laurel is the official flower and ruffed grouse, the official bird of Pennsylvania.

Cannon-Ball Tree

The vine-like branches of the unusual cannon-ball tree of South America twine around the base of the trunk. Thus, the large round fruit for which the tree is named often grows on the ground.

Canned Food Facts

Light causes all canned foods to fade. Berries lose color in sirup. They also bleach in plain tin cans because of the action of the metal.

Care of Scissors

The cutting edge of scissors and shears is damaged easily when used on cardboard, flowers and stems, wet cloth or heavy string. Heavy cutting not only dulls the blades, but may spring them. Once sprung, scissors blades are not repairable. For heavy cutting, invest in a pair of utility shears.
